The Cultural Landscape Foundation

connecting people and place.™

Pioneering cultural landscape artists, architects, designers, and patrons-philanthropists who have made a difference in the field of cultural landscape preservation, and who have carried out their mission, embodying the spirit of the pioneering-before-their-time spirit of the cultural landscape field.

This year's cultural landscape honoree:

Susan Child

Community-minded individuals who have helped bring cultural landscape projects to fruition, and who have restored, revitalized, and improved.

Recognition by name in program's press release with hyperlink to your website - -

Recognition in program online guide Logo Small logo Bold name Name

The Cultural Landscape Foundation is a tax-exempt organization (Tax ID 52-2092229) under 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Your contribution is deductible to the full extent allowed by law.

TCLF can connect you with people who share your interests through…

TCLF's home page, which receives 800,000 visitors a year, and annual 2.65 million page views.

Bi-monthly e-newsletter, and dedicated e-blast, more than 37,000 subscribers.

Social media, more than 80,000 fans.

Press release, more than 850 members of the media, via a direct mailing to the

About Us

The Cultural Landscape Foundation (TCLF) is a Washington, D.C.-based non-profit founded in 1998 connecting people and place. TCLF educates and engages people through programs, lectures, and tours, and promotes the preservation of cultural landscapes, including parks, gardens, and other places. TCLF brings together people and disciplines, and fosters the cultural landscape. TCLF's mission is to Hanna Ostergren executes the Cultural Landscape Architecture Prize.

To become a sponsor, please contact TCLF's President and CEO, Charles A. Birnbaum, at 202-413-2[illegible] or cbirnbaum@tclf.org Logo Small logo